

Kefauver And Stassen Helped By Ohio Supreme Court

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, April 3—Ohioans seeking to become delegates to the 1952 presidential nominating conventions got a break from the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday.

In decisions affecting the May 6 primary, the court ordered: 1. Ed D. Schorr, former Republican state chairman, kept on the ballot as a Second (Cincinnati) District delegate pledged to Sen. Robert A. Taft for President.

2. Harvey B. Woods restored to the ballot in the First (Cincinnati) District as a Republican delegate pledged to Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota for President.

3. Four delegates and alternates pledged to Democratic Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for President restored to the ballot in the 14th (Akron) District.

The Kefauver delegate candidates are W. B. Bixler and Daniel J. Devany, both of Akron. The alternate candidates are George R. Bass and Sal Germano, also of Akron.

The decisions increased the convention candidate slates of Stassen and Kefauver in Ohio.

Kefauver now has 27 district and 8 at-large candidates with a potential 31 votes in the Democratic convention. He is contesting an organization slate of 45 district and 16 at-large delegates pledged to Former Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland as Ohio's "favorite son." Ohio will have 54 votes at the Democratic convention. District delegates will have a full vote each and at-large delegates a half-vote apiece.

Stassen's delegate list now includes 37 district and 10 at-large candidates with a potential 47 votes in the Republican convention. Taft has a full slate of 46 district and 10 at-large delegates with a potential 56 convention votes.

Ohio will have 56 votes in the Republican convention, two more than Democrats allow the state in their convention.

Edward A. Klink, a Stassen-pledged delegate in the Second District, tried to have Schorr's name thrown off the ballot. He claimed Schorr lived in Columbus instead of Cincinnati where he votes.

Schorr said that although he maintains a Columbus home and law office, his actual residence is the home of his late father-in-law, George Renner, in Cincinnati. Schorr lived there before locating in Columbus.

The court in a unanimous decision declined to disturb the action of the Hamilton County election board in affirming Schorr's Cincinnati voting residence.

Klink's action followed the election board's removal of Woods and another Stassen delegate from the ballot in Cincinnati. The other candidate was Bernard L. Buelterman in the Second District. Buelterman did not contest his removal in court.

The board removed the two Stassen delegates on grounds they failed to report changes of address properly. But the court held in the Woods case that there was substantial compliance with the change of registration statute. Five judges concurred in the opinion and two abstained.

In the Akron case, the Kefauver delegates and alternates were removed from the ballot on grounds that a petition circulator was not qualified. The Summit County election board ruled that a circulator, Mary E. McGowan, swore falsely that she was a native Ohioan when her birthplace was Ireland.

But the court said the qualifications of a registered circulator "can not be attacked collaterally in a proceeding before the board based upon a protest to the petition." The vote was 5 to 2.

Illinois Next On Parade Of Primary Polls

Newspaper Survey Shows Taft Slated For Another Win

CHICAGO, April 3—The political spotlight swung sharply Thursday on Illinois, where next Tuesday's primary will provide another popularity sounding board for presidential hopefuls.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, whose victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries this week brought a new surge of hope to his followers, appeared headed for a new triumph, according to an Associated Press survey of Illinois newspapers.

They agreed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would draw a big write-in vote. Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Riley A. Bender, a Chicago hotel man, are on the Republican ballot.

Estimates by newspapers outside Chicago from 58 to 101 counties showed 64.7 per cent for Taft, 18.3 Eisenhower, 11.8 Stassen, 3.2 Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 1.7 Bender. The Cook County (Chicago) estimate was Taft 70.3 per cent, Eisenhower 12.3, Stassen 9.6, Bender 3, MacArthur 2.6.

TAFT, backed by the Illinois GOP organization, already has the support of 40 delegates who are unopposed. The 50 delegates to be chosen are not bound to abide by the election results.

No survey of Democratic prospects was made since Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is alone on the Democratic ballot. However, a write-in campaign is underway for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who says he is not seeking the presidential nomination.

The Democrats and Republicans each will name 10 additional delegates at state conventions, giving each party 60 in all.

Taft and Stassen opened their windup campaigns in the state Thursday. Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut will campaign on behalf of Eisenhower Friday and Saturday.

The final vote count still was incomplete in Nebraska, but it appeared Taft would get 15 of the 18 (Continued on Page Two)

Ted Lewis Gives Plans For Concert

Plans for the appearance of Ted Lewis in a benefit concert here April 25 were mapped out Wednesday by the famed bandmaster.

Circleville's favorite native son was visited by Ben Gordon, former city mayor, and close personal friend of Lewis, at the Beverly Hills Club near Cincinnati, where Lewis is playing.

Gordon said the bandmaster will book his troupe in Cleveland following his show-ender in Cincinnati, and will stop off in Columbus enroute.

Expected to arrive in Columbus early April 25, Lewis and his band, plus his entertainers, will be brought to Circleville for the celebration and concert.

THE LOCAL concert will feature the full 28-member troupe campaigning with Lewis. Gordon, who caught the show at Beverly Hills Wednesday night, said "it's a wonderful show, the best I have seen Ted give."

A stage and portable dressing rooms are to be built in Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum for the performance.

4 Persons Killed In Apartment Fire

CHICAGO, April 3—Four persons perished in a fast-spreading fire which destroyed a 12-flat, four-story apartment building here Wednesday night.

Eight other persons, including six firemen, were injured. All of the victims were trapped by the flames which engulfed the rear apartments of the building. They included Mrs. Mary Loucks, 54, her grandson, Kevin Kelly, 9 months; Miss Bonnie Laiske, 35, and Leonard Presley, 50.

Ohio Is Angered By Hog Embargo

West Virginia, Fearing Anthrax Bans Imports Of Buckeye Swine

COLUMBUS, April 3—West Virginia's embargo on the shipment of Ohio hogs has been labeled "discriminatory and absolutely unjustified."

Further, said Dr. Harry Geyer, Ohio state veterinarian, the ban will do great damage to the agriculture economy of both states. He said he believes West Virginia imports about 65 per cent of its pork from Ohio.

Geyer expressed amazement when told of the West Virginia embargo which was put into effect Wednesday because of the outbreak of anthrax. It bans shipment of hogs into West Virginia from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois.

Commissioner J. B. McLaughlin of the West Virginia Agriculture Department said the embargo was aimed at preventing anthrax infiltration into West Virginia from states which have had outbreaks of the hog-killing disease.

"THIS IS the first word we've had of this—you'd think they would at least notify us," Geyer said when told of the embargo.

He said West Virginia did not know whether it had any anthrax and in fact knew very little about the subject of anthrax until its agriculture representatives asked the Ohio Agriculture Department for information a week or so ago.

A spokesman for the Independent Livestock Marketing Association, which markets hogs for producers in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois said he agreed with Geyer that there is no cause for the West Virginia embargo.

R. Q. Smith, association secretary, declared the embargo will mean a costly redistribution of marketing outlets. He said farmers now are in their heaviest hog marketing period.

"It looks like Ohio has done most of the work in finding out what causes anthrax and trying to stop it, and now we're being discriminated against by states which we helped," Geyer declared.

The Ohio Agriculture Department also was displeased with a recent embargo by the state of Indiana on the shipment of livestock feed from Ohio into the Hoosier state. The outbreaks of anthrax in Ohio and Indiana have been traced to a shipment of bone meal from Belgium and distributed by an Ohio firm.

MEANWHILE, Geyer said, Ohio's outbreak has slowed considerably. He reported one new county, Columbiana, with a case of anthrax. This brings to 43 the total Ohio counties affected.

Geyer said he was "very encouraged" by Ohio's progress in slowing the outbreaks. He praised the cooperation of feed manufacturers and farmers.

But he said it is still important for farmers to remain cautious about anthrax and to report the slightest suspicion of an outbreak among their livestock.

Ohio's big problem now, Geyer said, is to insure that no more contaminated livestock feed gets into the state. He said the "wheels are turning" in Washington toward a federal ban that would prevent contaminated feed from coming into the United States from foreign sources.

There is some talk that Ohio may take action of its own to keep contaminated feed out of the state.

Charles Scott, 33, a farmer living near Lynchburg in Highland County, is under treatment in Wilmington as a possible victim of anthrax.

Dr. Frank G. Plymire said the man came to him Monday with sores on his hands and arms. Cultures have been sent to the state authorities in Columbus for study.

Juliana Fears That Emphasis On Defense May Be Too Great

WASHINGTON, April 3—Queen Juliana of the Netherlands Thursday urged the U. S. Congress not to imitate Iron Curtain countries which place so much emphasis on defense that economic, social and cultural well-being suffer.

She also said in her address before a joint session of Congress less than 24 hours after her arrival:

1. The U. S. can count upon Netherlands support in the present divided world.

2. Her country, with the help of America, is able to "stand once more on our own feet" economically. She expressed thanks for the aid given.

3. She said European unity is growing and that "political integration" may come "perhaps eventually."

4. The world is split into two parts, the positive (Democracy) and negative (slavery), and the negative role will "have to yield" in time.

MAJOR emphasis of the queen's address, which she delivered in English, was on technical assistance.

She said her country was helping to the best of its ability by exporting skills and experts to less developed countries. She said: "The circle of countries around the North Atlantic Ocean should avoid imitating the example set by the countries behind the Iron Curtain, which have focused their minds so much on their defense, that they forget to focus as much attention on their economic, social and cultural well-being."

She ended by saying: "Mankind in its distress has to trust largely to your good judgment for its deliverance."

Thieves Get Gems

NEW YORK, April 3—Police have no clue to Wednesday night's theft of $67,000 in jewelry, taken from Saks Fifth Avenue department store window.

Sabres Kill 40 Reds In 3 Days

SEOUL, April 3—American Sabre pilots destroyed or damaged eight Communist jets Thursday, running their box score to 40 for the first three days of April.

Thursday's toll was taken in three battles over Northwest Korea, including history's longest jet fight. It lasted 45 minutes. Eighteen F-86 Sabrejets tangled with 60 Russian-type jets in that battle, fought as the sun was setting.

The April mark is already more than a third of the total for the full month of March. April Allied losses have not been announced. They are reported at the end of the week.

McGrath Fires Morris As Corruption Sleuth

Rumors Of Truce Agreement Heard

MUNSAN, April 3—Rumors of a possible break in the prisoner exchange deadlock cropped up Thursday when top Allied brass arrived shortly after UN truce negotiators postponed secret prisoner parleys.

An Allied spokesman said the prisoner talks were postponed 24 hours for "constructive purposes."

There was no announcement as to why Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, top Allied commander; Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, and other generals flew here for conferences with the UN armistice delegation.

An official spokesman said it was not "a foregone conclusion" that an important development was imminent. He did not deny, however, there was such a possibility.

Observers said it might be significant that the list of top level officers included Van Fleet and Brig. Gen. Francis Dodd, commander of the Koje Island prison camp, scene of two recent bloody riots.

THE EIGHTH Army would handle the actual exchange of prisoners. The joint subcommittee of top level negotiators met for the first time in two months Thursday for its first attempt to break the deadlock over whether Russia qualifies as a neutral nation to help inspect a Korean truce.

"We had a meeting in which nothing new happened," said Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison.

There has been neither secrecy nor progress over the Russian question since the Reds first injected the issue into staff officer talks Feb. 16. The Communists nominated the Soviet Union as a "neutral nation."

Staff officers gave up and a subcommittee of truce negotiators took over the debate Thursday.

"What is needed is not further debate, but further progress," Harrison said. He reported the Communists refused to discuss the second issue blocking agreement on how to police a truce. This is the Allied demand for a ban on military aircraft construction.

"They said it interferes with their internal affairs," Harrison said, "which from our point of view is just a lot of baloney."

Mom To Live With Royal Kids

LONDON, April 3—Britain's queen mother Elizabeth "on't have to live out her widowhood alone. She will remain in Buckingham Palace after the new queen moves in after Easter.

Queen Elizabeth II upset another royal custom Thursday with her decision. Widowed queen: always before have moved into other quarters after the new sovereign took the throne and the palace, but the young Queen is keeping the family circle intact in the 690-room royal mansion.

Lockbourne Jet Fighter Killed

ZANESVILLE, April 3—A jet fighter plane pilot was killed Wednesday night when his parachute failed to open after he jumped from his disabled plane near here.

Lockbourne Air Force Base identified him as Capt. Harold E. Powell of Columbus. Powell's F-84 developed engine trouble on a training flight from Lockbourne. It crashed and exploded on a farm about three miles southwest of Zanesville. Exploding ammunition started a grass fire. Wreckage was scattered over several acres.

No Successor Is Hinted By U.S. Attorney

Dismissal Follows Series Of Heated Talks With Truman

WASHINGTON, April 3—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath Thursday afternoon fired Newbold Morris as the administration's corruption sleuth.

The attorney general made public a curt letter to the New York Republican notifying him of the immediate termination of his services. There was no immediate announcement as to whether a successor would be named.

McGrath personally handed copies of the letter to reporters at the Justice Department, but declined to answer any questions as to whether President Truman had formally approved the action.

The firing followed a series of McGrath-Truman talks Wednesday—including an apparently heated argument at National Airport here while the two were waiting to greet Queen Juliana of the Netherlands.

There had been some speculation that McGrath himself might be let out in the row over a financial questionnaire Morris posed for government officials.

McGrath himself on Feb. 1 appointed the 50-year-old Morris, former president of the New York City council, to ferret out corruption in the government.

Last Monday, however, McGrath told a House investigating committee he did not know whether he would fill out his own questionnaire and had not ordered any one else in his department to do so.

He also said that if he had the appointment to make again he would not pick Morris.

When McGrath called reporters in to announce the dismissal, he was surrounded by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Assistant Attorney General James M. McInerney and Joseph C. Duggan, McGrath's assistant in the field of executive orders. McInerney heads the department's criminal division.

McGRATH'S letter to Morris reads: "Please be informed that your appointment as a special assistant to the attorney general is hereby terminated and your services as an employee of the Department of Justice are terminated."

Ohio Valley Due For New A-Plant

WASHINGTON, April 3—Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) said Wednesday the Atomic Energy Commission is considering building a "sizeable" new plant in the Ohio Valley.

Elston said sites under consideration include the Cincinnati area, the Scioto River section around Portsmouth and near Louisville.

Elston, a member of the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, said he expects the AEC to ask Congress shortly for money to build the plant.

Government Eyes Steel Seizure

Legal Aspects Of Grab Studied As Nation Faces Tuesday Strike

WASHINGTON, April 3—The administration held over the steel industry Thursday a threat of government seizure unless a strike due next Tuesday is averted.

The effect of the seizure threat was to increase pressure on the industry to grant government-suggested wage boosts to Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers.

About 700,000 of the union's one million members are ready for a walkout in the basic steel industry at midnight Tuesday. The other workers, mainly in steel fabricating plants, are ineligible to strike at the moment.

Steelworkers have said they cannot afford to give Murray the 17½-cent hourly pay boost, plus union shop and other benefits, without getting government permission to raise prices. The government apparently was standing firm against increase in prices, contending it would cause more inflation.

THE SEIZURE threat brought a heated reaction from Congress. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said it would be "very high-handed and arbitrary" and, to his mind, illegal.

Senators George (D-Ga.) and Maybank (D-SC) also doubted legal authority for taking over the industry.

Even government lawyers, instructed by John R. Steelman, acting defense mobilization boss, to "consider all eventualities," seemed none too sure of the legal basis for seizure.

Chairman Murray (D-Mont) ordered the Senate Labor Committee staff to draft legislation spelling out seizure powers in more detail, including authority for the government to keep part of a seized industry's profits and to pay out wage boosts.

It was known that the steel industry long has feared government operation of its facilities, as has come about during labor disputes in the coal and railroad industries. Steel firms reportedly instructed their lawyers to be ready to fight any government move in that direction.

Long-delayed company-union negotiations again were scheduled to start in New York Thursday but there was no indication of a break from either side. Murray, in New York for the negotiations, declined comment on the seizure talk.

HENRY KAISER announced Wednesday night he had reached an agreement with the steelworkers based on the government's wage increase proposals covering

Rent Cuts Voided

COLUMBUS, April 3—Rent control officials can't make retroactive rent cuts, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled Wednesday. The decision reversed Youngstown court rulings.

VERMILION, Kas., April 3—Two Air Force men were killed in the crash of a B-29 near here Thursday, but 12 other members of the crew parachuted to safety.

WASHINGTON, April 3—The Supreme Court ruled Thursday that presidential elector candidates can be required to pledge loyalty to their national party.

Many More Men To Be Inducted

WASHINGTON, April 3—Manpower officials say an increase of 110,000 men in the armed forces during the fiscal year starting July 1 means about 1,200,000 new men must don uniforms.

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, defense manpower boss, told the House Appropriations Committee that the large majority of new recruits will merely replace those relieved from active duty.

"We are in effect running a revolving door," she said. "This is expensive and takes a great deal more manpower."

Town Experiences 'Lost Day Of Democracy'

LAMPASAS, Tex., April 3—A make-believe war came vividly alive here Thursday shortly after dawn.

With fixed bayonets, big, green-clad aggressor troops secured this Central Texas ranching town of 5,000 persons and a military government took it over.

To test military government as a part of a military maneuver and to find just what it means to lose your everyday liberties is the reason Lampasas—for Thursday at least—is a U. S. city in the hands of a "totalitarian enemy."

With the hearty approval of city officials, civic leaders and the plain residents, Maj. Alton Shipstead of Winona, Minn., set a coldly realistic problem.

Shipstead, military government officer for the 82nd Airborne Division—the aggressors, were solely responsible for actions here Thursday.

He and Lt. Col. Robert H. Slover, military government director for Exercise Long Horn being staged over 1,800 square miles of Central Texas, said the necessary pursuits of the city would not be interfered with in any way.

Concentration camps, property confiscation, quick, one-sided trials are part of the "Lost Day Of Democracy" here.

"Thought control" for the school, closed churches, propaganda broadcasts are all a part,

H. C. Ballew, superintendent of the schools, said his pupils were enthusiastic about the part they play.

Slover said the same spirit has been shown by all the people.

Huge printed proclamations announcing the "liberation" of Lampasas were plastered over the town. So were "laws" to govern the citizens and the announcement that all political parties were abolished; that the "Centralist Party" was now the only one.

The Lost Day Of Democracy here has stolen the spotlight from the main part of the maneuver, the attack by the 82nd against the 47th and 31st Infantry Divisions spread along Cowhorse Creek.

No Successor Is Hinted By U.S. Attorney

tice shall cease at the close of business today.

"You are hereby requested to deliver all files, records and documents in your offices to the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

The order that Morris deliver his records to the FBI led to immediate speculation that FBI Director Hoover may be given the cleanup job.

"However, McGrath sternly refused to add anything to the letter's content. 'Not a thing—not a thing,' he said repeatedly. 'I have nothing to add to the letter.'"

He shook his head in negation when reporters urged him to outline: "Where do we go from here?"

Morris, who asked McGrath and nearly 600 other top Justice Department officials to fill out detailed questionnaires about their personal finances, has been standing by—saying nothing.

McGrath was flushed and looked indignant during the exchange at the airport, and the President was smiling. They stood some distance away from other waiting dignitaries and newsmen and their words could not be overheard.

TRUMAN'S press secretary, Joseph Short, joined in the discussion, punctuating his words by slamming his fist against his palm. After about five minutes the President, his lips forming a thin, severe line, turned on his heel and joined another group.

McGrath and Short continued talking. By the time Queen Juliana's plane arrived things had cooled off and McGrath was the third dignitary presented to the queen by the President.

Instead of accompanying the parade downtown, however, McGrath returned immediately to his office. He had no comment when a reporter asked him if he would care to state the subject matter of his "gesticulating conference" with the President.

Nor was there any explanation from the White House.

McGrath had spent 15 minutes with the President in the White House earlier in the day and when he left he told reporters: "Anything that is to be said about our discussion will be said by the President or his staff."

One guess being tossed around on what happened at the airport was that McGrath may have become annoyed when the afternoon passed without the President or his staff saying anything.

Thus far McGrath has not filled out Morris' questionnaire. Nor has he instructed any of his subordinates to do so. He told a House Judiciary Subcommittee which is investigating his department that he has not decided whether he is going to fill it out.

Dead Hogs Bring State Probe Here

Local officials Thursday summoned state veterinarian officials to investigate a situation in Madison Township.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff said he asked the state vet's office to investigate when he discovered five dead hogs lying in a small stream in northern Pickaway County.

The deputy said each of the hogs weighed about 100 pounds. The veterinarian's aid was sought to determine whether the hogs suffered the dread anthrax disease.

County Farmer Is Killed By Cyanide Fumes

Owen J. Beauman, 33-year-old Pickaway County farmer, died Wednesday of cyanide fumes while treating beehive materials.

Beauman was using the deadly poison in an outbuilding to prevent mold in the materials before the bees used them.

The man, who lived on a farm just east of Mt. Sterling, was found lying face-down on the outbuilding floor near a pile of the spilled poison. A physician said the farmer had not been using a gas mask which he customarily wore when performing such work.

Beauman's body was discovered Wednesday morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Beauman, when they returned to the farm following a visit to Circleville.

SURVIVING HIM, in addition to his parents, are two sisters, Mrs. Helen Funderburg of Springfield and Ruth Eleanor Beauman of the home; three brothers, Ned Beauman, Leo Beauman and Dean Beauman, all at home; and a grandmother, Mrs. Martin Beauman, of London.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday in Snyder Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling. Burial will be in Mt. Sterling Cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home.

Telegraphers Out On Strike Over Nation

COLUMBUS, April 3 —(P)—The nation's first telegraph strike since 1919 slowed Western Union operations in Ohio to a snail's pace Thursday.

The strike affects an estimated 2,500 Western Union employees in about 100 offices in the state.

Larry Bush, president of Columbus Local 20 of the striking Commercial Telegraphers Union AFL, said, "Western Union will take what few people it has on the job and attempt to maintain some of its more important lines."

Asked if a person could send a telegram, he replied: "I don't know what they would do with it. The only possible way they could handle it would be to tell the sender the telegram would be moved 'when possible,' and that will probably be when this thing is settled."

It was estimated the company's service in Cincinnati would be reduced to about 10 per cent of the normal. Picketing was reported at the Cleveland offices, where 500 are employed.

Bush said picket lines would not be formed in Columbus unless the company brought in outside help. The company employs 165 here.

In Dayton, Superintendent R. S. Carpenter indicated a picket line would be set up Thursday.

In Springfield, only 29 employees are affected and no picketing is expected.

Beekeeper Killed By Cyanide Fumes

CIRCLEVILLE, April 3 —(P)—Owen J. Beauman, 33-year-old Pickaway County farmer, died Wednesday of cyanide fumes as he was cleaning beehive cones.

Beauman was using the deadly poison in an outbuilding over a pile of the spilled poison. A physician said the farmer had not been using the gas mask he customarily used in such work.

The body was found by Beauman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Beauman, when they returned to the farm after a visit to Circleville. Their farm lies just east of Mount Sterling.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday in Snyder Funeral Home, Mount Sterling.

George Kuhlwein Jr. of Ashville was fined $10 and costs Wednesday in the court of Mayor Ed Amey for speeding. He was arrested on Route 23 by State Highway Patrolman R. E. Brandon.

Pickaway Court News

Common Pleas Court

Divorce petition filed by Phyllis Holbrook, 16, by her father, J. O. Sparks, vs. Ralph Holbrook, accused husband of gross neglect of duty, extreme cruelty. Couple has two children. Court issues restraining order against husband.

Probate Court

Will of Leland Dunkel admitted and probated. Document names widow, Eloise Dunkel, to receive entire estate. Widow named executrix to the estimated $20,000 estate.

Estate of Amos Hollenback inventoried and appraised at $6,022.12 by Gordon Perrill, Ira Hoover and George Grove. Estate consists of $3,044.95 in personal goods and chattels, $89 in money, $1,388.17 in accounts receivable and $1,500 in real estate.

Willard H. Barch estate inventoried and appraised at $31,500.71 by Harry Crow, Jesse Baum and Everett Peters. Estate consists of $3,662.50 in personal goods and chattels, $651 in bonds, notes and other securities, $2,187.21 in accounts receivable and $25,000 in real estate.

Harrisburg Man Sent To Jail

Harry D. Barnes, 26, of Harrisburg, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to six months in Pickaway County Jail Thursday for assault and battery.

Garnes was fined and sentenced in the court of Magistrate Oscar Root on an affidavit filed by Mrs. Joy Barnes, his wife.

Earlier this week, Barnes had appeared in the magistrate's court on a similar accusation filed by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Carrie Rose, but was released on $150 bond to appear Saturday.

Magistrate Root said the man will still appear on the affidavit filed by Mrs. Rose, which accuses him of striking his wife also.

Columbus Men Are Held Here

Two Columbus men were held in Pickaway County Jail Thursday for breaking into a coin-operated machine and removing the money.

The men, ages 19 and 25, were arrested after a report from Clay's restaurant, Route 23 above Bell's Siding, of the theft.

A coin-operated electric eye machine was looted, Sheriff Charles Radcliff said. The men said they pried open the back of the machine with a screwdriver and took the money box. Only a few dollars worth of nickels was in the box, authorities said.

A fiddle, in its nautical meaning, is a wooden rack to keep dishes from sliding off a cabin table in rough weather.

Illinois Next On Parade Of Primary Polls

Republican delegates and Eisenhower one. This was based on pre-election commitments.

With 1,893 of the 2,058 precincts accounted for, Taft had a 67,642 to 53,577 write-in margin over the general. Stassen, whose name was on the ballot, was third with 46,112.

Kefauver led Sen. Robert S. Kerr on the Democratic side 54,437 to 36,104 with 1,856 precincts counted.

BUT THE Oklahoma senator had five of the 12 delegates to Kefauver's four. Two were uncommitted and one was for Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

Friends of both Taft and Kefauver interpreted the Nebraska and Wisconsin victories as sure signs their candidates were headed for presidential nominations.

Taft won 24 of the 30 Wisconsin delegates, with Gov. Earl Warren of California getting the other six. Kefauver won all 28 Democratic delegates. Eisenhower was not on the ballot and write-ins were not permitted.

Other political developments:

1. Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said in Washington that Russell, with "the Solid South sewed up," has the Democratic edge.

2. Sen. Lodge (R-Mass) left for Paris to confer with Eisenhower. He said the Nebraska and Wisconsin results were "not setbacks for Eisenhower at all." Lodge heads the general's campaign.

3. Tennessee's GOP convention named four more Taft delegates to the party's national convention, giving the Ohioan 19 of the 20 from that state. The 20th delegate will be named May 2.

4. THE Maryland court of appeals—the state's highest tribunal—agreed to rule next Tuesday on whether the way will be opened for write-in votes in the May 5 primary. The ruling will be on an order by State Circuit Judge Emory H. Niles which would compel election supervisors to provide space for write-in votes.

5. A national poll of country weekly newspaper editors by the American Press, a trade magazine, showed 253 favored Taft as their "personal choice." Eisenhower 243. Kefauver 30. Other candidates had less support.

6. Norman Thomas, one-time perennial Socialist candidate for President, said in Garden City, N. Y., he will support his own party, but he "likes Ike" and thinks his chances of election "look very good."

Scheele Renamed

WASHINGTON, April 3 — (P)—Leonard A. Scheele Thursday began his second four-year term as surgeon general of the Public Health Service.

DEATHS and Funerals

GEORGE RUTTER

George V. Rutter, 48, of London-derry Route 1, died at 11:20 p. m. Tuesday in University hospital, Columbus.

Surviving Mr. Rutter is his widow, Malinda Butterbaugh Rutter; four sons; two daughters; two brothers, including Roy Rutter of Adelphi; and four sisters, including Mrs. Martha Adams of near Kings-ton.

Services will be held in Dunkard church at 2 p. m. Friday with the Rev. Melvin Thornton officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call in the residence Thursday evening.

MISS JEANETTE BLACKER

Miss Jeanette Blacker, 82, died Tuesday in her home in Columbus.

Miss Blacker, a former resident of Pickaway County, was an employee of the Mrs. Eugene Gray Shop in Columbus before her retirement in 1942.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Ellen Blacker at home; two nephews, Edgar Hedges and Harold Hedges of Columbus; and two grandnephews.

Services were held Thursday afternoon in Columbus. Burial was in Forest Cemetery.

JACK FOWLER

Fowler died early Wednesday in White Cross hospital, Columbus. He had been admitted early Tuesday as an emergency patient.

Friends may call in the funeral home.

Scout Meeting Is Due Monday

A special meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in Presbyterian church to organize a new Boy Scout troop here.

Urged to attend the organizational session are fathers of all youngsters of Boy Scout age and fathers of boys now belong to Cub Scout Packs sponsored by Presbyterian and First Methodist churches.

The new Boy Scout troop is planned to be sponsored jointly by the Presbyterian and Methodist churches. Officers from Scout headquarters are to attend the meeting.

'Iceberg' On Land Spreads Havoc

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., April 3 — (P)—A freakish southwest wind Wednesday launched by land an "iceberg" which caused havoc for 20 minutes across the east arm of Grand Traverse Bay.

The "iceberg" was a phenomenon of the spring breakup.

Local Women Giving Aid In Agent's Office

Two Pickaway County women have been employed temporarily by the county extension office to aid in the 4-H Club program here this Summer.

They are Elizabeth Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Stevenson of Wayne Township; and Lucille Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Neal of Darby Township.

Miss Stevenson is a graduate of Ohio State university college of agriculture, majoring in animal husbandry. Miss Stevenson is expected to handle boys' 4-H Club work.

Miss Neal is enrolled in the Ohio State university school of home economics and recently returned to the U. S. from Puerto Rico, where she had been a guest under the IFYE program. Miss Neal is expected to handle girls' 4-H work.

COUNTY AGENT Larry Best said the two local women have been hired as Summertime assistants in the extension office until permanent home demonstration and associate agents can be procured.

The local extension office was left shorthanded when Miss Genevieve Alley resigned recently to marry and former Associate Agent Bob Schwartz was transferred.

Local Man Fined On Larceny Count

A 19-year-old Pickaway County man was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail Wednesday in the court of Magistrate Oscar Root for petty larceny.

He is Donald Imler, 19, of Kingston Route 1, who was accused of stealing a gasoline engine from a neighbor, Ed Fetheroid.

The court later suspended the 90-day jail term in favor of probation, where Imler is to attend church for one Sunday a month for six months. The farm youth was arrested by Deputy James Diltz.

Clerks Handle 1,500 Items

Pickaway County deputies in the clerk of courts office handled about 1,500 documents involving motor vehicles during March.

During the month, deputies handled 812 vehicle titles, made 343 notations of liens and cancelled 320 liens.

Included in the total, the clerks filed titles for 45 new autos, five new trucks, one new semi-trailer outfit, one new motorscooter and two new motorcycles.

World Today

By James Marlow
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON, April 3—The old Tinkers-to-Evers-to-Chance routine was like a kid's game compared with the Morris-to-McGrath-to-Truman doubleplay in which the President has to make the putout.

Newbold Morris and J. Howard McGrath—the President's two top investigators whose own conduct has been investigated by Congress—haven't much in common except years in politics and an ability to get into jams.

Although Attorney General McGrath's Justice Department ordinarily would be the chief investigator of government corruption, the Truman administration seemed to think it necessary to bring in an outsider.

After several better-known men had turned down the job, McGrath suggested Morris and President Truman appointed him special assistant to McGrath. At once, Morris announced he'd start off investigating McGrath's department.

THIS IN itself was interesting but not any more so than Morris' performance when he went before a Senate committee which wanted to quiz him about his law firm's connection with a ship deal.

While Morris is a New York City boy of 50 who batted well in the Republican political league there, he got off to a country boy's start shortly after landing here where the political sluggers use lead pipes.

Morris insulted the senators—hardly the social thing to do because anyone could have told him when any insulting is done at a Senate hearing it's usually done by the senators.

You could almost hear them count to 10 to keep their tempers. What they said about him—something about over-emotional—was mild compared with what they did to him. They refused to let him have the subpoena power President Truman asked for him.

This was the same as telling a man to hunt to the outfield, for his investigation could never be more than half an investigation if he lacked the power to compel witnesses to testify.

Still, he tried to operate. He called a news conference and announced he was sending a long questionnaire to McGrath and the key men in the Justice Department, demanding intimate information about their financial affairs.

THIS WEEK McGrath went before a House Judiciary Subcommittee which is eager to check on the Justice Department itself and wants a look at McGrath's income tax returns.

While McGrath and the congressmen were batting the ball around he said he (1) not only hadn't filled out Morris' questionnaire but didn't know whether he would; (2) hadn't distributed it to the other Justice Department people; and (3) wouldn't have recommended Morris as investigator if he had it to do over again.

Here was a doubleplay the like of which the President hasn't been mixed up in since he's been in the White House. After all, Morris was given his job with presidential blessing and here was McGrath balking at Morris' investigation.

Could he uphold McGrath and let Morris go? And if he did, how would that look in this political year when Truman knows corruption in government will be a campaign issue?

Pfc. Good Gets Combat Badge

Pfc. Charles F. Good of 1022 South Court street, was recently awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge, symbol of the front line fighting man, while with the 40th Infantry Division in Korea.

The badge shows a miniature Revolutionary War flintlock rifle mounted against a blue rectangle. A silver wreath extends across the bottom and up the sides of the badge.

The 40th, from Southern California, was the first National Guard division to arrive overseas after start of the Korean war. The unit trained for 16 months in Japan before it was committed to Korea in January.

Good is a member of Company F of the 160th Infantry Regiment.

Cpl. Garner, a graduate of Circleville high school in 1948, is an assistant squad leader in the 6th Infantry Regiment.

Birds To Receive $9,000 Estate

COLUMBUS, April 3—This is for the birds—$9,000, that is. Probate Judge Paul W. Barrett ruled Wednesday two pairs of cockatoos can legally inherit that amount from the late William H. Ziessler, retired Delaware druggist.

The judge named a trustee to administer the funds for the birds, now in Columbus Zoo. Ziessler, unmarried, left nine-tenths of his estate to his pet birds when he died last May. He also gave the Columbus Zoological Society $1,500 to build adjoining cages for them.

The so-called Dust Bowl covers more than 50 million acres and includes parts of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Yesterday, I presented a contribution by Polly Dee Ishmael, entitled "Going on Thirteen," with permission of Polly and her mother. It came to my attention through the kindness of Mrs. Porter M. Lucas, Crane, Missouri, who wrote:

"It does not seem possible that it has been 25 years since first I wrote you. . . and that now the tot about whom I wrote is the father of the most wonderful grandchild that ever was! My little flock is scattered. But I think you would be proud of them."

Then she tells of the educational and professional achievements of her three children and the happy marriage of the two who are fully grown.

When Mrs. Lucas, whom I have never had the privilege of meeting, first wrote me, she was in a sanatorium for the tubercular. She wrote of the wonderful ways in which her husband and the young children were carrying on cooperatively during her absence; of how their successes boosted her morale, and of the family adjustments that were made so well on her recovery and return home.

AMONG THE GREATEST satisfactions I gain from this column are the many letters I receive from parents whose children have become very promising youths, successful young men and women or parents. These letters give me a lift, and help assure me that many problems which parents may suppose they have with their children in the early years, either take care of themselves or are resolved by the parents who attack these problems intelligently. So often I have wished that Mrs. Myers and I might meet these parents and their children and visit with them in their homes or ours. Anyway, it's a pleasure to muse on them and their achievements.

Now back to how I got the contribution from Polly Dee Ishmael: Mrs. Lucas explained that for several years she has been reading manuscripts for one of the large publishers of children's books and adds: "Not long ago a teacher asked me to read some English themes of a 12-year-old girl. When I read 'Going on Thirteen,' I at once thought of your column. I think it is as revealing and touching a manuscript as I have read in a long time."

Then Mrs. Lucas noted that Polly Dee's father is one of America's distinguished men in medical research and referred to her still more distinguished grandfather in the medical field, but added: "Yet in spite of vast wealth, her parents have succeeded in making her just a typical little American girl."

"HER CLOTHES DO NOT differ in quantity or quality from other children's. She is active in Sunday school (I might add that the Ishmael children are never 'sent' to church and Sunday school, they are 'taken,' as you preach so much). She goes to camp in Summer but not an 'exclusive' one.

"The whole family vacation together and live together. She has jobs she must do, tithes she must pay, and disciplines she must obey . . . but she has much freedom and privilege, too.

ASBESTOS HEIR Tommy Manville has announced in New York that singer Ruth Webb (above) will be his ninth wife. "No more of that kid stuff," he said. "This could be one of the richest experiences of my life." Standing in the way of the contemplated nuptials, however, is the fact that he still hasn't shed wife No. 8, Georgianna Campbell. She is reported to have spurned a $100,000 settlement.

PEOPLE EVERYWHERE are wisely choosing complete electrification... and rapidly, too!

Within a short time, most everyone will be using electricity not merely for lighting, but for the big time-and energy consuming jobs like Refrigeration, Cooking, Water Heating, Laundering, Cleaning and Water Pumping.

The reason is this: Electricity does all the jobs better... and cheaper! It's more convenient, quicker, safer, cleaner and more efficient. It saves time, energy, labor... increases farm product value.

GO ALL-ELECTRIC: The cost of electricity is low... and it drops much lower when you use it freely.

THE MORE YOU USE... THE LOWER THE PRICE

RECONCILED TO GRAFT

BECAUSE OF threats from without the American people are being urged to provide additional billions to finance increased defense effort and to aid other nations. There seems to be total disregard at top levels of a situation in this land of the free which is in fact equally serious.

So far no action worth mentioning has been taken against those who corrupt the government at a time when the people are asked to pay and pay for security against the communist aggressor. The President in fact takes the position that his administration has been the most honest in history.

The American people are becoming reconciled to the theory that the government is fair game for all those who would profit through its exploitation. They have not been properly aroused over the millions made through the sale of surplus ships, the graft exposed in the Internal Revenue Department, the scandals in grain storage, the flow of war materials to Russia, and favoritism or worse in the granting of RFC loans.

While the taxpayers are told to shell out more billions for defense, they see Congress voting billions for projects which are politically inspired in behalf of votes, and utter only the faintest protests.

A nation which is operating on a deficit basis, whose national debt is mounting every hour while taxes are boosted twice a year with clocklike regularity, is asked to keep its eyes riveted on a challenge from the outside which is less deadly than the graft and chicanery of traitorous politicians.

The citizen who left his shirt in a Philadelphia income tax office will discover the futility of his gesture when he is directed to surrender the remainder of his raiment.

A St. Louis manufacturer of horse collars who hadn't chalked up a sale since 1947 demonstrated lack of ingenuity when he quit without streamlining his product or advertising improved performance and increased horsepower.

Used car lots are loaded down with cars for sale, but no lessening in competition for the open space at the curb is noted.

These Days

Since last Saturday night, I, like millions of others, have wondered what impelled Harry Truman to quit. True, many have forecast such a decision for a year, but their guess was no better than that of those who believed that he would want to continue in office.

A few nights before the event, I was on a train and we got into the usual discussion and a man wanted to bet me a quarter that Truman would not run. He could not possibly have known about it, one way or the other. All that he knew for sure was that he had a quarter. Yet, he turned out to be right.

For, say what one will, Harry Truman is unusual for the White House of our era. During the 20th century, the Presidency has been held mostly by men of education and culture, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Harry Truman's formal education was limited to the public schools in Independence, Missouri and the Kansas City School of Law.

This does not make him a greater or a lesser man; it is unusual in this era for a man in this country to reach such high estate without formal education. Much of the material that came to him as President, particularly in economics and social institutions, must have been almost unintelligible to him. During the whole of his Administration, he has been faced by Soviet Russia, Marxism, international Communism, their infiltration into our own country. Although everybody is an expert on these subjects by his own declaration, the few in this country who have given themselves to them with diligence find that a thorough devotion to philosophic approaches to the place of man in the cosmos is essential for any understanding of this movement.

It can therefore be appreciated that Harry Truman should have regarded what he could not understand as a red-herring across the trail of precinct politics of which he is a master.

Nevertheless, it would be false to fail to recognize in Truman a man of unusual ability and correct motives who, catapulted into a position beyond his training and background, did better within his limitations than could have been expected.

That he was devoted to peace is beyond doubt. That he has made many unnecessary sacrifices, as, for instance, the dismissal of MacArthur, for what he believed to be peace, is obvious. To the student of the problem, it will often be a source of wonder as to when Truman ever had the opportunity to learn how to use the tools of statesmanship. Perhaps his abject dependence upon General George Marshall and Dean Acheson was due to his sensitivity as to his own limitations.

Migraine Headaches In Women Being Treated With Hormones

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
MIGRAINE, one of the severest types of headache known to man, may come from a disorder of the glands.

A migraine headache usually gives some warning before it occurs—spots before the eyes, sudden blindness, a bad taste in the mouth, or ringing in the ears.

Attack Very Severe
The attack itself is usually very severe, with a throbbing, pounding ache in one side of the head only. There is usually severe nausea with vomiting, and frequently abdominal cramps.

Among migraine patients, there are two women for every man. In women, attacks seldom occur before puberty and the beginning of menstruation. They seem to disappear with the menopause. These attacks may be most frequent just before a menstrual period.

It is believed that a definite relationship exists between migraine and the endocrine glands. These are the glands which form important body juices called hormones.

Specialists who are of the opinion that a disorder of these glands causes migraine have used endocrine preparations in treating it.

They have had excellent results with progesterone and testosterone. These preparations are given by injection into a muscle, the best time being about a week before a menstrual period.

Mixture of Hormones

In certain cases, a mixture of the female hormone, estrogen, with the male hormone, testosterone, is necessary to relieve and prevent an attack. This treatment has protected many women from numerous migraine headaches.

An injection of ergotamine during the warning phase may stop an attack from going further. Recently, a preparation of ergotamine and caffeine, taken by mouth, has proved helpful.

Our increasing knowledge about the glands is enabling doctors to give real relief to many sufferers from migraine headaches.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

K. D.: I have infectious jaundice. What is the best treatment?

Answer: The usual treatment, under the direction of the physician, is strict bed rest until the symptoms clear up and laboratory tests show that the jaundice is no longer present. All alcoholic beverages are withdrawn until complete recovery. The diet contains a large amount of protein, sugars, and starches, and a low amount of fat.

In early cases, the use of the new antibiotics, such as aureomycin, chloramphenicol, and terramycin, may be of some help.

the Americas," and to learn how a "nation free of foreign debt" (that's a sly poke—Ed. note) is seeking economic independence . . . by progressive economic and human relations developments."

"CULTURAL" — The memo adds that, if Americans wish to "sidestep the gay life," which includes slot machines, gay Dominican nightclubs, cock-fights, Sunday horse racing, baseball and boxing, they may indulge in a "wealth of cultural activities." Obviously, they expect a very few to go in for non-casino culture.

It is quite obvious that Senator Kefauver would get the Caribbean vote on the assumption that he would favor more reforms that would enrich our "good neighbors" to the south.

CYNICAL — Representative Dewey Short, the ex-minister who quit the pulpit for Missouri politics, is a pro-Taft, neo-isolationist and he does not care who knows it. During a cloakroom discussion of the $7.9 billion Mutual Security Act recently, he used the words: "We Americans must be a soft-headed—or soft-headed—breed. Here we stole this country from the Indians! We won it from the British in a fair fight! And now we are supporting both the Indians and the British! How long, O Lord, how long!"

Mr. Short's slightly cynical comment represents the sentiment of a growing number of legislators on both sides of the aisle that divides Democrats and Republicans.

Peon and Foolish

Copyright 1950 by Robert Molloy. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

It is the year 1914 and we find Henry Lemay and Eloise, his sister, living in the small town of Charleston, S. C., living in anticipation of a more abundant life. News has reached them that the Lemay family "fortune" long impounded in France, may be released to them. "Oh, blessed escape from the genteel poverty that has too long engulfed them," Henry exclaims. What wonderful tidings for Henry, their niece, on her return to them from college, any day now. But will she be up with that Calvert boy, again? Heaven forbid, Henry prays. Ah, with money, the ability to travel luxuriously, to indulge the good things of life, Henry is certain that he can lure his adored Eloise away from Lincoln Calvert, nephew of his old enemy, Unionist Col. Calvert. Henry's sharp-tongued old cousin, Fudge Gerard, cautions him against high hopes, for she says there's more a slip 'twixt cup and lip! But Henry sees only dreaming his dreams. Money now will enable him to wed Miss Antoinette Fielding, a poor, dear gentleman whom he had courted these past forty years.

meeting again. "You will have to be careful about your silver," he suggested. "I'm not so concerned about that," Antoinette said, "as about what people will think. The Fieldings, you know . . ."

"Of course. That has to be considered." Antoinette sighed. "It goes against my grain, I tell you that. But the roof has to be repaired—there are a lot of tiles loose. I'm told I ought to have the roof replaced with a slate one. I hate to do that. It's just another surrender to this craze for being modern. Like that Mayor Glynn—"

"She made a little wry face, and Henry winced slightly. Mayor Glynn was one of their points of disagreement.

"—who's so determined to pave every street in the city. I'll have to pay an assessment on that before very long, I suppose."

"It's the automobiles that are responsible," Henry said. "Our streets were good enough for horses and carriages."

"The old days," Antoinette said, "are gone. I knew that Navy Yard would be the end of the old Charleston. You remember what dear Mrs. Ravenel said at the end of her book—"

"Yes," Henry said hastily, "I remember very well." But Antoinette repeated the phrases anyway.

"I remember how dear Papa hated all this change," Antoinette said. "How he hated having electricity put in! Even after that cook from James Island blew the gas out one night and nearly asphyxiated us all. Her name was Amelia."

"Now, about this matter of the visitors," Henry said, for he was no stranger to the fact that once Antoinette got to reminiscing there would be no stopping her. "It seems to me that you might refer to them as 'paying guests.' That would sound a good deal better."

"Yes, I think it would," Antoinette said. "Should I accept the money from them directly? I've never taken money from anyone in my life."

Henry cleared his throat. "I don't know," he said. "How else would you do it?"

"I thought there was a right way to do everything," Antoinette said fretfully. "That's the way I was brought up. And here I find myself without anything to go by. I'm glad of one thing," she added, "and that's that Papa and Mama didn't live to see it."

Tears came into her eyes, and she sniffled.

"My dear girl," Henry said, "don't distress yourself. I'm sure it can be done with dignity, and there's certainly nothing wrong in adding honestly to your income."

"I don't doubt that you're right, Henry," Antoinette said, dabbing at her eyes, "but I feel it, anyway."

Henry assumed a judicious pose, his fingertips joined as if in prayer, and the index fingers parting and meeting again.

Henry poured himself another glass of sherry and drank rapidly. The wine made him feel more optimistic. He took Antoinette's hand and stroked it.

"Never mind," he said. "Things will turn out better. I have a feeling that perhaps that family money will turn out to be real—"

"But what good can that do me?" Antoinette asked, blushing.

And that, Henry thought, was true. He couldn't do anything for Antoinette. It wouldn't be proper. For a moment he had seen, as if in a dream, Antoinette and himself sitting on a sunny piazza, quite like the piazza of this very house, and ordering gardeners and cooks and maids to do this and that, an eternal bottle of sherry at his elbow and a large box of the finest cigars within his reach. But the dream wouldn't stay. Marriage—and even in his thoughts he touched the word very delicately—marriage would be impossible at their age. Think of the talk. Think of the crude people like Cousin Julie discussing it and laughing at two old people.

"What would I do," Antoinette said musingly, "if some of them turned out to be disagreeable people? Roistering and all that?"

"I'd have a distinct understanding with them," Henry said.

Depressed by the evening's tele-a-tele, he returned to his house. Before going upstairs, he looked up, saw that the transient tomat was outside, and then took the old photograph album from the parlor and carried it up to his room.

"That you, Brother?" Heloise called.

"Yes, it's me," Henry said. He went across the landing into her room. By the light of an oil lamp, which she used for economy, Heloise was reading a novel with a colored picture on the cover.

"Did you have a pleasant visit?" Henry could never quite avoid the feeling that Heloise was amused at his visits to Antoinette.

"Very nice," he said. "But I found out two distressing things. In the first place, that Calvert boy is going to stay. He's going to buy a farm."

"Well," Heloise said, "the second thing is, that Antoinette is going to take people into her house."

"You mean she's going to take roomers?"

"From out of town," Henry explained hastily, "and I prefer to think of them as guests. I don't like it."

"Hard times," Heloise said, "make the monkey eat red pepper. I suppose Antoinette Fielding can stand it as well as anyone else."

"I think it's very hard for an elderly woman," Henry said.

"Maybe so, but I wish we had all that room. I could take in some medical students."

"Sister!" Henry burst out, astonished. "Are you out of your mind? Medical students in the house with Leonie?"

Heloise chuckled. "I suppose that wouldn't do," she admitted.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Veteran legislators think it slightly ironic that the Kefauver reform crusade has backfired so heavily at the expense of the United States Treasury. Together with Truman taxes on liquor, which were not imposed for moral or ethical reasons, the drive against the gamblers and their underworld allies threatens to prove costly to the taxpayers.

In imposing a $50 federal fee on off-track bookies, treasury statisticians forecast that it would produce an annual revenue of $400 million. Followers of the ponies on the House Ways and Means committee, more experienced in these matters, scoffed at Truman-Snyder anticipations.

They were correct. On the basis of present purchases of licenses, receipts will amount to only about $9 million a year.

This deficit will have to be made up in some way in future revenue legislation. The general run of taxpayers, not the bookies, will be the victims of this erroneous calculation.

GRATEFUL — As committee members with racetrack and off-track experience knew, only a few of the illegal betting operators accepted the invitation to pay tribute to Uncle Sam, and make their unlawful operations a matter of public record.

The gamblers and their agents have "folded" until, as they expect, the heat disappears after the November election. The underworld realizes that public opinion, shocked by the Kefauver revelations on television, forced an unwilling White House and Congress to give only legislative lip service to these restrictions. The governors of states which have popular racetracks are grateful to Senator Kefauver, although they will not support his presidential candidacy. With the bookies closed down temporarily, attendance and betting at the tracks have boomed, meaning increased state revenue.

DECLINE — Despite their enjoyment of a highball or two, President Truman and Secretary Snyder demanded a boost in the tax on distilled spirits from $9 to $10.50 a gallon, which means a federal levy of more than $2 on a quart.

The Missourians were moved by financial needs, not moral impulses. Indeed, they hoped and expected that people would drink even more, despite higher retail prices.

After a slight increase in November of last year—the new rates became effective Nov. 1—receipts from liquor taxes have slumped steadily and heavily. In January, 1952, for instance, collections amounted to only $101 million, as against $211 million in January, 1951.

Should that decline of 52 per cent persist, treasury officials may be justified in consuming this commodity in order to lighten their worries at least temporarily.

COMIC — But the ban on interstate shipment of slot machines, as well as prohibitive state laws against their operation even in private clubs, has its comic as well as costly aspects. Most vivid evidence is furnished by an official memo distributed by the information center of the Dominican Republic in New York. The memo follows:

"Gambling in the sky via slot machines will feature a four-hour plane flight by the 'Sportsmen's Special' between Miami and Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic—the Monte Carlo of the Caribbean—where four legal gambling casinos flourish. Three of the casinos have opened since the Kefauver crime investigation closed many illegal gambling places in the U.S."

The special plane, oddly, is named "Lady Luck." It is owned by a Dominican subsidiary of Pan-American Airways, whose president, Juan Trippie, seems to be the darling of the White House and the Civil Aeronautics Board. The memo says that, although the Dominican government is not sponsoring this gambling project, it "approves of it."

Garden Club Members Attend Regional Meeting

Local Clubs Participate

Members of Pickaway County Garden Clubs attended the Spring regional meeting of the Ninth District of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, Wednesday in the American Legion home in Lancaster.

Those attending from the Circleville Garden Club were Mrs. George Welker, Mrs. Channing Virebome, Miss Mattie Crum, Floyd Bartley and Miss Mary Ann Drake. Delegates were also invited from the Pic-Fay, Soliqua, Commercial Point, Ashville, Lees Creek and Monrovia Garden Clubs.

Registration in the morning was followed by a short business meeting, during which state awards were made and announcements were made concerning plans for the coming year. Members were asked to participate in Arbor Day planting.

Mrs. Thomas M. Wolfe of Athens, past president of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs and Mrs. Paul A. Parker, chairman of roadside development, spoke.

Following the luncheon in the Legion home, Charles Goslin showed bird sketches and a flower show was held.

Nebraska Grange Holds Program

Members of the Nebraska Grange made contributions to the Muscular Dystrophy and the Crippled Children's Funds, at their meeting Tuesday evening.

The group made plans to attend the Scioto Valley Grange meeting May 4, for Rural Life Sunday. This meeting will include a carry-in dinner in the evening.

Don Collins made an appeal for blood donors to contribute in Ashville, April 3.

Mrs. David Klamfoth, lecturer, opened her program with a group singing to music furnished by John Hedges.

Mrs. Arthur Sark read a story about Ohio entitled, "What Have They Got That Ohio Hasn't," by Johnny Jones. A skit, "April Fool Conversation," was presented by James Archer and Ray Plum.

Mrs. Jay Hay entertained with accordion selections and David Klamfoth showed slides. A poem on, "Home" by Eleanor Archer, and a prayer by Mrs. Klamfoth closed the program.

Highlighting the April meeting will be an Easter parade and program given by the children.

Famous DDT Still Rated As Top Dope.

Bug Resistance
Discounted By Ag
Department Aides

WASHINGTON, April 4 — (AP)—Don't throw away your DDT or other insect sprays if you expect to be bothered by mosquitoes or flies at home or on that outdoor vacation trip this summer.

These insecticides still can be helpful even though such pests appear to be developing resistance to them.

The Agriculture Department cautions the public against complete dependence on insecticides to control mosquitoes and flies. It says tests conducted last year in heavy mosquito-breeding areas of Florida and California showed the insects to be definitely resistant to DDT but not noticeably resistant to newer insecticides such as lindane, chlordane and BHC.

However, the department said it is possible the insects will develop resistance to the newer chemicals.

FOR THIS reason, it said, those interested in area-wide control should depend less on chemicals and more on permanent methods, such as draining and filling mosquito-breeding areas and stocking bodies of water with fish that feast upon mosquito larva.

DDT and other insecticides appear to be more effective against adult mosquitoes than against larvae. The department said DDT has been used for seven years with continued high percentage kills. By using DDT inside or in the vicinity of the homes, only adult mosquitoes come into contact with it.

When large-scale outdoor control campaigns are directed against the insect pests, usually in the larva stage, resistant mosquitoes make up a high percentage of those surviving.

As a consequence the best method for the long pull, the department said, is to eliminate breeding places. This does not mean, however, that once the pests reach adulthood insecticides will be useless.

For this purpose, scientists will have to keep trying to develop new chemical combinations as insects develop immunity to older ones.

Federal Housing Project Shunned

HAMILTON, April 3 — (AP)—Council Wednesday night reversed a previous action and turned down a federal housing project in favor of private enterprise.

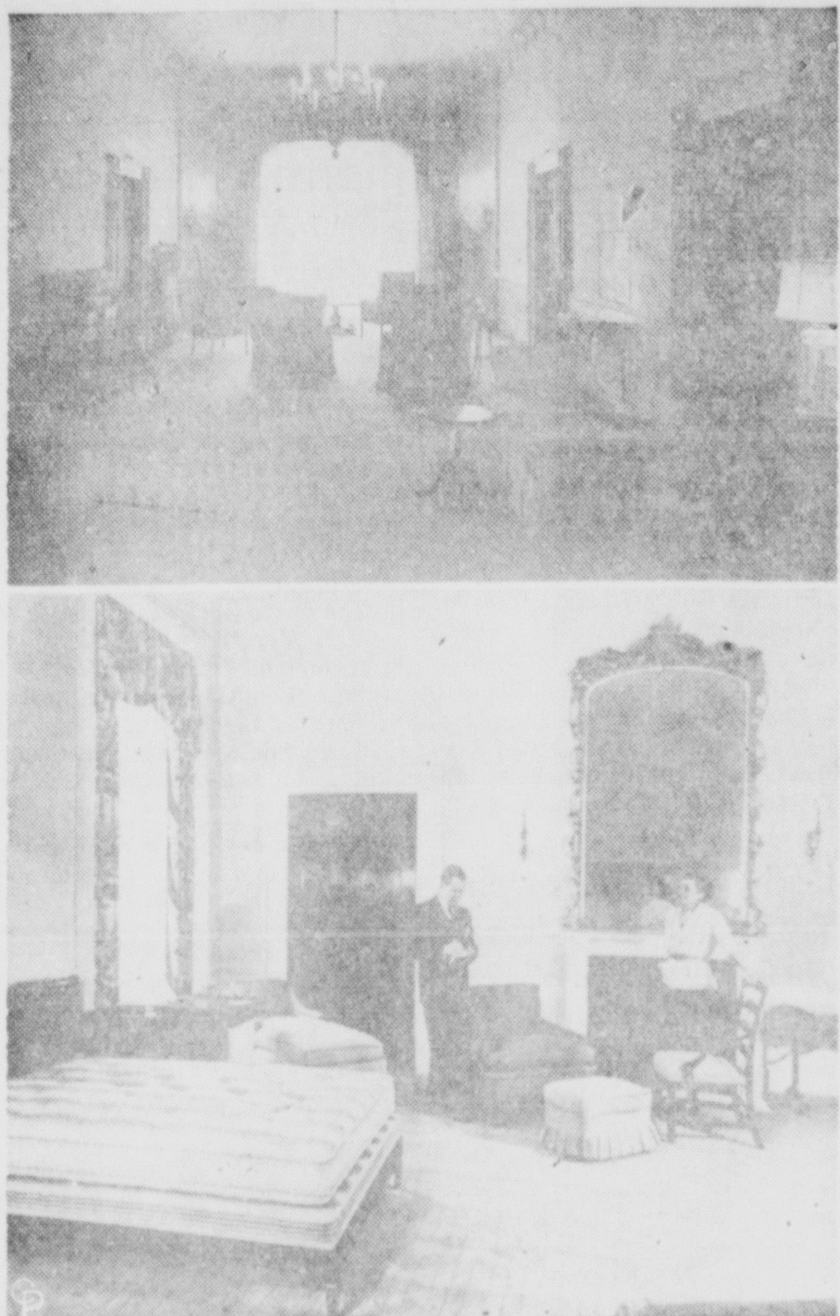

The decision was made unanimously after a special mayor's committee informed the councilmen it had studied the city's housing and re-development problems and considered that private enterprise, with the city's cooperation, could do better than the federal plan. Council passed an ordinance last December approving the federal plan for 300 housing units. Its action Wednesday night repealed that ordinance and enacted one designed to establish 150 units.

Elinor Williams' Teen Tips

Washing your face may be a dull deal to you, but there's actually glamor in those soap-suds. . . the appeal of a clear, smooth complexion.

The best way to banish enlarged, oil-clogged pores, blackheads and ugly pimples from your skin is with soap-suds. Merely washing your face more carefully and thoroughly helps to keep your face blemish-free.

Sometimes skin troubles are caused by an internal allergy. Some are the result of incorrect diet—too many sweets, especially chocolate, too many greasy fried foods; not enough water (drink at least six glasses a day.)

Usually, however, the cause of ugly pimples is external and skin that "breaks out" can be cleared with simple, correct daily care. I've seen it happen.

During the early 'teens, glandular changes in the maturing body make oil glands work overtime, pouring out excess oil through the pore-openings in the skin. When this extra oil is not removed by careful, frequent cleaning, the pore-openings become clogged, forming blackheads. Blackheads are dirt-filled pores. When they get infected, they form pimples.

So oily skin must be kept clean . . . with mild soap and water every morning and night and once during the day, too, if possible.

One of the best, thorough cleansers are "cleansing grains," gritty little soap granules that you moisten with water in the palm of your

Weekly Food Review

By Associated Press

Prices of eggs and a long list of fresh vegetables were a little higher this week in most stores. Eggs and frying chickens were a few cents a pound lower in many places. Otherwise the level of meat prices was unchanged.

Liberal sprinkling of rather deep reductions to attract customers made this week look like a good one for extra shopping. Price off as much as 10 cents a pound on such popular cuts as leg of lamb, pork roast, breast and shoulder of veal, fresh and frozen fish, cottage cheese and bacon.

Other advertised specials by most stores for shopping this week included fresh and smoked hams, rib roast, frying chickens, leg of lamb, pork roast, breast and shoulder of veal, fresh and frozen fish, cottage cheese and bacon.

The Agriculture Department's list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week: Prunes, raisins, broilers, fryers and cabbage.

A few coffee roasting firms trimmed their prices one to 1 1/2 cents a pound this week, cancelling out an increase of the same amount made early this year.

The Office of Price Stabilization established ceilings on restaurant prices at levels of menus dated during the week of Feb. 3 to 9, and ruled that the maximums are effective next Monday and must be posted by April 25. OPS said any reduction in the size of servings or in the quality of food would be considered a direct overcharge.

5 Ohio Cities Given Warnings

COLUMBUS, April 3—Attorney General C. William O'Neill has notified five Ohio cities they face immediate court action to stop them from dumping raw sewage into streams.

They are Niles, Tiffin, Ashtabula, Struthers and Campbell. O'Neill some time ago filed a criminal affidavit against Youngstown in an effort to get anti-pollution action there. He said they are the only six cities out of 31 cited that have failed to respond to a statewide anti-pollution program.

Big Hotels Now Looking For Business

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—During the last war many a weary traveler figured it must be easier to get the keys to Fort Knox than a key to the average hotel room.

Hotel desk clerks were more powerful than the neighborhood butcher. Remember how they looked at you as if you had the measles? Yes, even though you assured them you'd be wildly content with a cot in the boiler room—or even a blanket and a sofa on the mezzanine.

The room shortage battles annoyed some people so much they swore they would never leave their own hearths again unless forced out by fire or flood.

Well, the good news for today is—you can start hitting the open road again. Hotels want you now. The emergency is over. The welcome mat is at the front door. The desk clerk again says, "yes, sir."

"Business is excellent, but the terrific pressure is no longer there," said Frank Wageman, scion of an old European hotel family. "We no longer have to spend most of our time saying 'no' to people we'd like to take on."

Wageman, now 39, served an apprenticeship in such over-sized inns as the Ritz in London and the swank George V in Paris before becoming general manager of the Roosevelt Hotel here, which caters to more than 250,000 guests a year.

He believes that hotel-keeping, now one of the nation's eighth largest industries, is in the same category phase the department store was a generation ago.

"About 20 years ago we had trouble attracting outstanding young men because they didn't want to work in a service industry," he said. "But not any more. It's a big business offering big rewards. Right now we have in our dishwashing department a boy who took post-graduate courses at Cambridge University and a former British naval officer who commanded a destroyer. There is a graduate of Yale working as a file clerk in our accounting department."

"They are learning the business from the bottom. So many young men with good educational and family backgrounds come to us that we have to remind them that this business isn't all glamour—it's hard work."

The traveling public likes to be romanced and pampered and made to feel at home, and smart hotels are now trying to do exactly that by streamlining service, providing better parking facilities, modernizing rooms, installing high speed elevators.

"Everything now is geared to speed," Wageman said. "The thing guests hate most is to be kept waiting."

Women are playing a big role in influencing change, as wives often pick the hotel when the family journeys together. There is also an increasing number of traveling women executives.

"Women are no more demanding than men, but they are more precise in what they want—and more appreciative when they get it," Wageman said. "They like light, cheerful, well-decorated rooms with a feminine touch if possible—rooms that look more like their own living room. And they like lighter, well-balanced menus with a choice of salads."

A sidelight: Ever stay at a hotel near a railroad station and

"The closer a hotel is to a railroad station," said Wageman, smiling, "the more likely its guests are to miss their trains."

Truman Is Said Well-Heeled Now

He May Leave White House Better Off Than In 1945

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Harry S. Truman seems likely to be more comfortably fixed financially when he leaves the White House than he was when he entered it seven years ago.

There is no information available on how much of his pay the President has been able to salt away, but some of his associates believe it's enough to keep the wolf from coming anywhere near the Truman doorstep.

The President, who announced Saturday night he wouldn't accept nomination for another term, has been drawing a $100,000-a-year salary since January, 1949—plus an annual $50,000 tax-free allowance.

When he took office April 12, 1945, the presidential pay was $75,000 a year—all of it taxable. As vice president under Franklin D. Roosevelt from January until April of that year, Truman was paid at the rate of $20,000 a year—a job that now pays Alben Barkley $30,000 and a $10,000 non-taxable allowance.

AS A SENATOR from Missouri before he was elected vice president, Truman's salary was $10,000 a year. This was $2,500 less base pay than senators now receive, and they also currently draw a $2,500 tax-free expense allowance.

After becoming President, Truman let it be known that as a senator he had to hire his wife as his secretary because his $10,000 salary would not pay all his expenses.

In 1947 when he had been President two years, it was estimated that he would have only about $4,200 left of his $75,000 salary after payment of taxes and expenses for 12 months.

At that time there were predictions that instead of having any savings when he stepped out of the White House he probably would be faced with a heavy personal debt.

The big pay increase in 1949 seems to have reversed that situation. Helping, too, were the more than three years the Trumans lived in Blair House while the White House was being remodelled. Expenses were less at the temporary living quarters.

With more pay and a reduction in expenses, the President had a chance to save for that rainy day. Those around him figure he probably did a pretty good job of it.

TRUMAN is a frugal man with simple tastes and can be expected to live modestly when he returns to private life.

There is no federal pension for ex-presidents, and congressional officials say he isn't eligible for a pension based on the 10 years he was a senator. The pension plan for former members of Congress went into effect after he was in the White House; it has no retroactive feature.

Some had thought that the book, "Mr. President," which was written by William Hillman based on the chief executive's letters, might give Mr. Truman some income. But the Associated Press reported from Washington this week that the President would get nary a dime from royalties on the book, already labeled as a best-seller.

Columbus Dems Backing Carney

COLUMBUS, April 3.—A screening committee of the Franklin County Democratic organization has recommended endorsement of State Rep. James M. Carney of Cleveland for the Ohio senatorial nomination, Chairman Walter F. Heer said Tuesday night.

"That can amount to an endorsement," Heer said, "though it's not a formal, official announcement."

Carney, Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, John Donahay of Hudson and George L. Mark of Cleveland are seeking the nomination to oppose Republican Sen. Bricker.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—are not what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line that produces SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. White interiors optional at extra cost when available. Wheel Covers standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Ohio Is King Of Harness Horse Makers

State Ranks First As Producer For 5th Straight Year

COLUMBUS, April 3—For the fifth straight year, the state of Ohio ranks as the nation's leading producer of harness horses.

Ohio breeders and owners registered 703 Standardbreds with the United States Trotting Association in 1951, 76 more than a year ago.

According to USTA Registrar Ken McCarr's annual report, registration reached an all-time high of 4,879 in 1951.

There was little change in the makeup of the top ten states. Two states climbed a notch in the national standings and eight of the ten showed increases in keeping with the healthy trend prevailing in the sport.

Biggest increase was credited to Illinois which climbed from third to second place with 501 registrations, 141 more than last year. Indiana, which dropped from 399 to 393, landed in third place.

Principal reason for the big jump in Illinois' annual total was the establishment of four state-sponsored colt races for two and 3-year-olds worth an estimated $150,000. Only Illinois-bred harness horses are eligible to these stakes.

NEW YORK (377) and Pennsylvania (346) rounded out the top five. Kentucky (290), California (225), Michigan (170), Wisconsin (161) and Iowa (149) trailed in that order. All except Michigan, which dropped from seventh to eighth place, showed registration gains.

Although no Ohio nursery is as large as those in Kentucky and Pennsylvania, the Buckeye state has emerged the national leader every year since 1947 when state by state totals were first compiled. Scores of small farms are located in Ohio and many other Buckeye State horsemen raise a colt or two each year.

Here are some harness racing notes:

Two eligibles to the $90,000 Hambleton already have scored victories in California this year. They are the colt Volo Colby, owned by Leo C. McNamara of Carmel, Ind., and the filly Lu Peck, property of O. L. Mears of Toledo.

During the peak of the winter training season, Delvin Miller had 64 horses in his barns at Orlando, Fla. Miller was the nation's leading money-winning harness driver in 1950 and ranked third last year.

The first foals of the world champion 2-year-old pacer, Knight Dream, will appear on the harness racing turf this year.

Although retired from public service, Volomite, leading sire of harness racing champions, is still living in Kentucky at the age of 26. His stud fee was $5,000, highest ever for a harness horse.

Luke Growls At Mention Of Blackwell

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 3—(AP)—Blackwell, Blackwell, Blackwell—that's all Manager Luke Sewell of Cincinnati has been hearing lately.

Ordinarily the name of Sewell Blackwell would be sweet in Luke's ears, especially when the experts predict he will win 20 games or more for the Reds this season.

But when all the talk is about trading the stringbean hurler to the Brooklyn Dodgers, Sewell gets his dander up. He let go this blast at Dodger Manager Chuck Dressen Wednesday:

"If that guy Dressen doesn't stop poppin' off to newspapermen about our players I'm going to do something about it."

Sewell says Dressen hasn't mentioned any trades to him personally, but when he talks to newsmen "he goes into his song and dance about getting one of my starting pitchers, usually Blackie, for three or four of his second-line players."

"I'm interested in strengthening the club, not weakening it. It wasn't Blackwell, but Wehnert, who pitched for Cincinnati against the Washington Senators Wednesday and Hermie looked fine as he allowed only four hits for a 4-3 Cincinnati exhibition win."

Saban, Pellington To Join Browns

CLEVELAND, April 3—(AP)—John Saban, a four-letter winner at Xavier University of Cincinnati, and Bill Pellington, a 220-pound guard from Rutgers University have signed contracts to play football for the Cleveland Browns.

Saban, a linebacker, is a brother of Lou Saban, former center and captain of the Browns and now coach at Case Tech here.

Silent Witness Gets Jail Term

BALTIMORE, April 3—(AP)—George A. Meyers, 39-year-old chairman of the Communist Party in Maryland, will begin a 30-day jail term Friday for refusing to answer questions as a witness in his trial on Communist conspiracy charges.

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut imposed the 30-day sentence for contempt of court Wednesday. However, the judge agreed to delay the start of the sentence until Friday, when Meyers and five co-defendants, convicted of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force, come up for sentencing.

Doctor Faces Rap

CINCINNATI, April 3—(AP)—Dr. Robert L. Crudginton, who is facing charges of evading federal income tax, failed to list $52,233 in income from his medical practice for 1945, 1947 and 1948, a bill of particulars filed in federal court here says.

Sokolsky's These Days

They got him into more difficulties than any President ever suffered at the hands of his official family. While, for instance, President Harding was disgraced by his Secretary of Interior, that involved money corruption within the country.

The Marshall-Acheson policy lost China, put us into war in Korea, and imperiled our world position. In fact, in 1945, this was the strongest country on earth; in 1952, this is not so, even from a military standpoint. Truman has been President during the whole of this period with Marshall and Acheson as his principal aids in the conduct of foreign and security policies.

Yet, Truman never lost confidence in these men or the men of Yalta, like Averell Harriman, who have been laboring for what he regards as peace.

The sincerity of Truman's motives cannot be doubted. One need only see his face, on television or in person, when he speaks of peace, to realize that his whole being is deeply, even religiously, motivated by the desire for peace. He would not want to be a war President.

If this judgment of the man is correct, then he leaves the Presidency with the record that he has succeeded in staying off a war

Onion-Eating Thief Sought

PORTALES, N. M.—(AP)—Deputy sheriffs were instructed to use their noses in tracking down a thief who broke into the projection booth and popcorn stand at a drive-in theater.

"He ate half of an onion while in the popcorn building," the sheriff told his officers.

This Mayor No Dead-Ender

FARMINGTON, N. M.—(AP)—Mayor W. R. Gibson was pleased at first when the town board offered to name a street in a new subdivision for him. It didn't last.

"Wait a minute," said the mayor, "that street's a dead end."

Dunifon Dies

COLUMBUS, April 3—(AP)—W. D. Dunifon, former Van Wert postmaster, died Wednesday in a Columbus hospital. He was 83.

with Russia by compromises, appeasements, containment policies, Marshall Plans, ECA, European military aid, and other steps. Perhaps he feels that he can do no more for peace and that another man with another view needs to take over.

If that is so, he is displaying strength of character. Few men recognize when their day is done.

Popular White Bread Meets All Nutrition Requirements

Bread-Making History Is Outlined

Attacks Made On U.S. Loaf Are Unfounded

Americans eat 40 million loaves of bread a day. From bread we get one-fourth of our proteins, a third of our carbohydrates, a third of our calories, a third of the requirement of three important B vitamins, and useful amounts of calcium, potassium, phosphorus and other friendly chemicals.

Yet white bread, by far the most popular form, is under widespread attack as being nutritionally deficient.

Reviewing the history of flour made in the U.S., specialists say that before 1870 the rough stone wheels which ground the grain made a flour using 85 percent of the grain.

Then Minneapolis millers imported a new idea, steel rollers for grinding, which produced more top-grade flour with less power, and the flour kept longer without going rancid.

BUT THE NEW method used only 72 percent of the grain. In the newly-discarded additional 13 percent was a good proportion of the vitamins.

Of course, no one knew this at the time, as it wasn't until 1912 that it was known that vitamins existed. It was much later that research made clear the function of various ones.

Then in 1941, the federal government and the food industry inaugurated the bread enrichment program. For the first time in history, the bread supply of a whole nation would be intelligently and deliberately enriched.

Thiamin, niacin, riboflavin and iron would be added in amounts calculated to be most useful in making up the deficiencies in our diets. It is the enrichment program which makes our bread today the best there is in any nation. Beriberi is virtually known. So is pel-

Turnpike Loan To Be Sought

COLUMBUS, April 3—Chairman James W. Shocknessy of the Ohio Turnpike Commission said Tuesday he will ask investment bankers for an early decision on a $300 million loan for a turnpike across the northern part of the state.

Shocknessy will meet with bankers in New York Thursday and Friday. The lone obstacle, the chairman told a commission meeting Tuesday, is a Maumee taxpayer's suit seeking to change the route of the projected highway.

lagra, which in the 1930's caused more than 3,000 deaths annually. The specialists say those who attack bread have something to sell, a packaged or bottle product of their own. Or a different type of bread.

Strenuous efforts have been made to add to the white loaf every conceivable sort of other food—peanuts, potatoes, grapefruit juice, rice waste, peas, beans, tapioca and seaweed. Only the raisin has ever succeeded in getting into bread and staying there.

THE GIANTS that fill fairy tales come to life for little John and Stephany Brodie, 5 and 6, as circus performer Ted Evans towers over them. The trio arrived in New York aboard the Queen Mary. Evans, nine feet three inches tall, is in the U.S. to join the Ringling Bros. Circus, while the tots return to their Salt Lake City home. (International)

Dayton Foundry Poll Contested

DAYTON, April 3—The International Union of Electrical Workers Tuesday filed unfair labor practices charges which will delay counting of ballots in a representation election at the GHR foundry of the Dayton Malleable Co.

The IUE charged Tuesday's election was not held in "an atmosphere free from violence and coercion." The charge, filed with the National Labor Relations Board, named both the rival United Electrical Workers and the company as defendants.

The election was ordered by the NLRB at the request of the IUE. The UE had been negotiating with the company.

More Casualties

WASHINGTON, April 3—The Defense Department has identified

35 additional combat casualties in Korea. A new list reported seven killed, 26 wounded, one missing in action and one injured.

First wristwatch known in history was one presented to Queen Elizabeth by the Earl of Leicester in 1572.
